Our Elaborate and Fascinating Showing of Springtime Millinery

For the extravagantly beautiful styles of the new French model hats--artistic, versatile Paris has delved back into the art treasure of French history and especially the period immortalized by Antoine Watteau.

Also, her great modistes have brought forward styles reminiscent of the days of DuBari, Pompadour and Marie Antoinette--the courtliest days of France--and they have culled from those periods the daintiest, most picturesque and most bewitching styles of all. BUT, THE NEW TAILORED HATS, on the contrary, show an utter freedom from any trammeling periods. From them Fashion has drawn upon her most modern creative power to evolve new, independent and wonderfully jaunty things.

Just a Few of the Salient New Style Features You Will See To-Day

Susan Talbot—High crown sailors; smart, becoming, different.
Madam Louison—Luils that stand up straight.
Madam Lewis—Bows and trellised flowers over crowns and brims.
Madam Berthe—Darlingly chic moire bandeaux and bows.
Evelyn Varon—Luxuriant flowers and ostrich.
Georgette—High; crown bands, banked with flowers and ribbons.

The Hats Made in Our Own Work-Room

Show the inspiration of fine Paris models. Usually they are fashionably small, of fine Milan hemp or split straw. And there are the new oblong turbans, straight turbans; round hats with double brims, tricorues and narrow trimmed sailors. The new Ribbon Hats bid fair to become great favorites.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. Jack Camp, of Florida, who has been the guest of her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Milby Lloyd, at their home in this city, left last evening for the South. Mrs. Camp has been spending some time visiting relatives in Virginia, and came to Richmond from Suffolk, where she has been for the past several weeks.

The Right Rev. D. J. O'Connell, Bishop of Richmond, will address the members of the Art Club of Richmond and their friends this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, his subject being Michael Angelo's painting of the "Last Judgment" and the ceiling decoration in the Sistine Chapel.

The Sistine Chapel. Bishop O'Connell, is a gifted and charming speaker, and the club rooms will be crowded with members and guests to hear him. Decorations will be in bowls of spring flowers, and tea will be served by the house committee following the lecture. S. W. Meek, who is chairman of the afternoon, will introduce the speaker.

Mrs. A. B. Guigon was chairman of a brilliant musical held yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club. Mrs. Guigon, who is a pianist, rendered the program. The club parlors were crowded to the doors to hear the recital. Mrs. Smith, whose voice is rich and golden, is a finished artist. She has histrionic ability and a dramatic presence that make her singing perfectly charming. She will take several solo parts in "Angels in Art" in April. Miss Barker is a pianist of rare accomplishment, and her audience was most enthusiastic in its applause. Mrs. Smith sang "Annie Laurie" as an encore and Miss Barker rendered a charming composition written by Professor C. H. Hahr. It was perhaps the best musical that has been held at the club in many months.

The following program was rendered:
(a) "Recitativo e Cavatina," from "Puccini's" "Tosca," by Rossini.
(b) "Nur, wer die Sehnsucht kennt," by Beethoven.
(c) "Si vous n'avez rien a me dire," by Baronesse Rothschild.
(d) "Sembremo," by Chopin.
(e) "Polonaise, E flat minor," by Chopin.
(f) "O ma Lyre Immortelle," from "Sappho" by Gounod.
(g) "The Worldly Hope Men Set Their Hearts Upon," from "The Persian Garden," by Liza Lehmann.
(h) "Thoughts Have Wings," by Liza Lehmann.
(i) "The Leaves and the Wind," by Franco Leoni.

Mrs. Smith, Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody, Liszt.
(a) Habanera; (b) Sequencia, "Carmen" by Bizet.
Exchange Officers.
The annual meeting of the board of managers of the Richmond Exchange for Woman's Work was held at the exchange on Friday. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Henry T. Wickham, president; Mrs. G. Randolph Cannon, first vice-president; Mrs. Horace Hawes, second vice-president; Mrs. Thomas P. Jeffress, third vice-president; Mrs. Henry C. Baskerville, corresponding secretary; Miss Fannie E. Munford, recording secretary; Mrs. W. S. Donnan, treasurer, and the men elected members of the advisory board at the same time included: G. R. Cannon, Horace Hawes, J. Jordan Leake, Henry T. Wickham and Coleman Wortham.

The work of the exchange is a very wide and splendid one, filling a need in the city that has become an absolute necessity. All of the reports rendered Friday showed the organization to be in excellent condition and $16,527.58 has been paid out to workers during the past year.

Mrs. Nellie Foster will resume her musical teas at her studio at the Hanover this afternoon from 4.30 to 6 o'clock. A program that will include some very charming old-fashioned songs and ballads will be given by
